Wild Beauty, Warm Hospitality

We love the wide-screen scale of the Scottish Highlands. Great heather-covered moors roll into a broad, blue horizon. Ruined castles stand watch over silvery lochs. There's a wonderful wildness to it all. But for all of that sweep and solitude, it's the close-ups of local life that we remember best. You'll meet the shepherd whose choreographed collies steer a flock with fluid grace. We walk with a naturalist along a bend of a river famous for its salmon runs and walk coastal trails on the Isle of May to spot 90,000 pairs of nesting puffins. And we'll also introduce you to fascinating folks like the cashmere weavers of Elgin and the whisky aficionados at an artisanal distillery. Throughout, you'll spend your nights in lovely country house hotels, and enjoy a wide range of walks from canal towpaths to Edinburgh's lively High Street. We suspect you'll join our honorary clan of travelers who count the Scottish Highlands as one of their favorite destinations ever.

DAY 1

EDINBURGH

- Follow in the footsteps of kings and queens as you walk the Royal Mile
- 'Only with Classic Journeys' pair afternoon tea at Signet Library with a privately-guided visit of ancient Edinburgh Castle

Edinburgh is the historic capital of Scotland and is a beautiful blend of medieval Old Town, Georgian New Town and Victorian lanes, all resting under the gaze of ancient Edinburgh Castle. The city is layered with history and culture, and you'll experience that firsthand on a guided walk that first leads to the iconic Signet Library for a uniquely British custom, a proper afternoon tea. You'll be forgiven if you think you've time traveled as you settle in among the colonnades and historic books. The library was actually turned into the Governor's mansion in Jamaica for the Outlander series.

Later, join your guide to stroll the Royal Mile, the city's main thoroughfare. At one end sits the Palace of Holyroodhouse, the Queen's official residence in Scotland. At the top: Edinburgh Castle, where you'll enjoy a specially guided tour that culminates with spectacular views from the ramparts.

Overnight: Edinburgh

Meals: L

DAY 2

LOCH FASKALLY / THE HIGHLANDS

- Walk along a Scottish loch following salmon up their 'ladder'
- Meet a shepherd and his team of sheepdogs

Go deep into the Highlands this morning on a uniquely Scottish pilgrimage. Your morning walk crosses a scenic suspension bridge and follows a salmon ladder. Each year, more than 5,000 fish make their way upstream into the peaceful waters of Loch Faskally. In addition to the wildlife viewing, this landscape is full of rich clan history. Beautiful year round, its colors range from all kinds of lush greens in the spring and summer to fiery reds and yellows in the fall.

This afternoon, walk through landscapes that will remind you of Glenfinnan Viaduct of Harry Potter fame to a working sheep farm. The steep green pastures here have long been the grazing lands of massive herds of sheep. Visiting with our friend, Neil, you have the 'Only with Classic Journeys' opportunity to see an incredible team of sheepdogs go through their paces and get a personal window into life on the farm from the shepherd himself.

Overnight: Inverness

Meals: B, D

DAY 3

GLEN AFFRIC / LOCH NESS

- Walk in an ancient Caledonian forest
- Explore the iconic ruins of the Urquhart Castle
- Glide on the waters of Loch Ness

A glen is long deep valley. And one of the longest, deepest and most scenic is Glen Affric. To walk here is to step back in time, which is what you'll do on a walk this morning. The Caledonian pinewoods are the largest and most ancient in Scotland. On the trail, you'll really appreciate the quiet of the woods and how they open unexpectedly to views of moorland and mountains. You'll also have opportunities to spot wildlife that includes red deer, golden eagle, badger, pine marten, otter and more.

This afternoon, enjoy a guided visit of Urquhart Castle. Even if the name isn't familiar, you'll recognize the distinctive profile of this magnificent ruin on the shores of Loch Ness. Built in the early 13th Century, it sits on a fine headland near the stretch of the loch where many of the reputed Nessie sightings occurred. Board a launch for a cruise on the loch's waters. At 23 miles in length, Loch Ness actually fills a deep glacial valley and contains more fresh water than all of the lakes in England and Wales combined.

Overnight: Inverness

Meals: B

DAY 4

CULLODEN MOOR / ELGIN

- Walk the iconic battle site on Culloden Moor
- Visit with the cashmere weavers of Elgin
- Learn about real Scotch whisky from the distillers who make it

The one-hour battle that occurred on Culloden Moor in 1746 changed Highland life forever. Your walk lasts longer than the battle itself that took place on this hallowed ground where the forces of Bonnie Prince Charlie fell to the Duke of Cumberland. In the battle's aftermath, tartans and kilts were banned as part of the effort to break the Gaelic culture.

From the epic to the everyday, you'll journey to Elgin to visit Scotland's only woolen mill where raw cashmere is dyed, teased, carded, spun and hand-finished into luxurious woven fabrics. It's a rare look at one of the country's most storied crafts - not to mention a chance meet with the makers themselves and to do some shopping.

Scotland's first whisky distilleries show up in the tax records from the 1490s. After 5+ centuries, it remains one of the most characteristic crafts in the country. Use your palate to gain a true immersion into the history and culture of Scotland. Waiting for you with a dram or two of their famed single malt are friends at a traditional Speyside distillery. The family of whisky-lovers makes the finest handmade whisky matured in casks with a subtly smoky character and just four ingredients - barley, water, yeast and their own distinctly human touch. Join these passionate makers as they walk you through their traditional distillery, learn their secrets, and sit down with them for a "nosing" and tasting session.

Overnight: Inverness

Meals: B, D

DAY 5

CAIRNGORMS NATIONAL PARK / ST. ANDREWS

- Take a classic country walk in the heart of the highlands
- Get the local's view on a guided walk of St. Andrews

It's a good morning to fuel up on a traditional Scottish breakfast - eggs, bacon, grilled tomato, mushrooms, baked beans and maybe a slice of black pudding or even a kipper. You're off to follow in the footsteps of Rob Roy, one of Scotland's favorite outlaws and folk heroes. Your walk is in the crystal-clear air in the Cairngorms National Park on land where the Grant family of Rothiemurchus has lived for 18 centuries. Loch an Eilein is, for many Scots, one of their favorite walks in the country. There are terrific birding opportunities that include wrens, jays and treecreepers. The footpath crosses little bridges and idyllic whitewashed cottages, and offers enchanting views of a ruined 13th-century castle on a tiny island in the middle of the loch.

Your lunch location is an 'Only with Classic Journeys' dining experience, as you arrive to a picnic waiting for you at a 'bothy'. Basic shelters, usually for gardeners or other workers on an estate, bothies are found in remote mountainous areas of Scotland, Northern England and Wales.

This afternoon, journey through the Scottish countryside to St. Andrews, a medieval harbor town, and Scotland's oldest university. After time to relax, rejoin your guide early this evening for a guided walking exploration around St. Andrews that includes the cathedral, castle ruins, the university and the west sands made famous in Chariots of Fire.

Overnight: St. Andrews

Meals: B, L

DAY 6

ISLE OF MAY / ST. ANDREWS

- Spot nesting puffins, other sea birds and grey seals on a coastal wildlife walk on the Isle of May
- Walk the Old Course

Just a short boat ride from St. Andrews is the Isle of May. Owned by Scottish Natural Heritage and a national nature reserve, the island is just over a mile long and less than half a mile wide. But its size belies its fascinating history. Vikings, monks and smugglers, as well as an abundance of wildlife, have all made home on the island. Humans have occupied the island since 2,000 BC and it's also home to Scotland's oldest lighthouse. Connecting it all are scenic footpaths that trace the coast and contours of the island. Fields of wildflowers bloom in the spring and summer, and rugged cliffs are lined with ledges and crevices that make ideal nesting sites for thousands of seabirds, including 90,000 puffins that nest from April to August. Spend the main part of the day exploring the island, picnicking and watching the wildlife that also includes the largest colony of grey seals in Scotland as well as porpoise, dolphin and the occasional whale.

Even if you've never held a golf club, you'll know that St. Andrews is the home of the world's most fabled links. Get an up close look at the aptly named Old Course, the world's oldest golf course on lands where the game was first played around the year 1400. The course is a dramatic study in rugged landscape that's immaculately manicured. On your walk, see Granny Clark's Wynd, the Seven Sisters, and Hell, the bunker to end all bunkers. You'll cross Swilcan Bridge, pass through the Valley of Sin, before ending up at the majestic Royal & Ancient clubhouse.

FALKLAND PALACE

- Follow in the footsteps of royals on a walk through a royal hunting preserve
- Explore the gardens of Mary Queen of Scots' castle

The Forest of Falkland was a favorite hunting ground of the Stuart monarchs from 1437 to 1602. Follow in their footsteps on scenic paths that lead from the forest through sustainable farms, past sheep meadows and waterfalls. Your destination is the home of one of Scotland's most famous monarchs. Mary Queen of Scots loved to hunt and go hawking at Falkland Palace and today you'll see why. After falling into ruin, the palace was restored in the early 20th Century. The gardens are some of the best anywhere, full of vivid flower plants with a wildflower meadow that carpets the estate's orchard. The village where the palace is located is so cinematic that the makers of Outlander chose it as the location for Frank and Claire's honeymoon.

Midafternoon, return to Edinburgh. Part company here or choose to explore the fine shops, medieval buildings and landmarks that include Parliament House and St. Giles Kirk.

Overnight: None

Meals: B

ENJOY THE UNEXPECTED

When you travel with Classic Journeys, you can expect handcrafted surprises built into every trip, but some things just can't be anticipated. Unusual weather, a once-a-year festival or an unscheduled site closing will inspire us and your local guide to improvise and modify this itinerary. Likewise, the hotels named here are used on the majority of our trips, but occasionally one of them can't accommodate us. If that happens, you can count on us to let you know before departure and make sure you're in a hotel of equal or better quality. It's our goal to make your trip exceptional!
